

Disruption Week 2024

November 2024

Leo Kelion (LK): Do you want to know more about the drivers of long term growth? Join us for Disruption Week 2024. This November, Baillie Gifford's Investment Managers will share details of catalysts and companies exciting them. This year's theme is New Horizons of Growth. They will focus on forces shaping society and propelling profits. Our topics include repairing and revamping US infrastructure, entrepreneur led firms making strides outside public markets, opportunities arising from people living longer and having fewer children, and world class emerging market companies capitalising on change.

Disruption week starts November the 18th. Sign up today to be part of the conversation.
